

Submission Point 3 (5%)

Mood boards	The report is good. The individual mood boards are well presented and documented. The final mood board captures the website's dynamic and approachable design style, which would be useful in the development stage.
Style guide	The style guide is not well presented. Colours, logo and other elements are not displayed while launching the StyleSheet.html file on the browser. The css and image folders have not been updated. For the final submission, endeavour to address these comments as the report is an essential part of the design process that details how much white space should surround a logo, which typefaces and colours a brand uses, along with when and where it is appropriate to use them.
Page design	The report is good—the individual artefacts indicate the design of the mobile phone website. However, the design should be general, i.e. for mobile and web designs, rather than presenting it only on a mobile phone since the proposed website is expected to work on both mobile and web devices.

Further comments
The report is good. However, endeavour to address the comments in the style guide and page design for the final submission.
